Luis Argueta, award-winning director of The Silence of Neto, brings us this poignant 90-minute documentary about the harshest raid in U.S. history. Weaving together the lives of the individuals, families, and town directly affected by the events of May 12, 2008, abUSed: the Postville Raid presents the human face of immigration. "It eloquently tells the story of the people of Postville, and their suffering at the hands of a broken immigration system. It will provide millions of people with a disturbing picture of the dark side of American Justice" – David W. Leopold, President, American Immigration Lawyers Association.
